Practical Problems of Modern Language Study and Instruction. The Problem: To find a method by means of which adult foreigners may secure a working-knowledge of English with a minimum of time and effort. By working knowledge is meant enough English to make one's wants known and to be able to follow directions, whether spoken or written. The Procedure: (1) A study of the origin of language in order to understand something of its underlying principles. (2) A study of the deaf and dumb language and of the sign language of Indians in order to learn the basis of their non-vocal means of communication. (3) A study of the methods that foreigners usually employ in making their wants known before they are able to speak our language. (4) A study of the two most popular methods in use at the present time-(a) the Roberts method and (b) the Goldberger method-in order to determine what principles they employ. (5) A study of current methods employed in teaching other foreign languages. (6) A comparison and critical study of the foregoing results in the elaboration of a method to solve our problem in a manner both psychologically and pedagogically sound. In limiting the method to one that will give a working-knowledge only, we are justified by the fact that the type of foreigners with which we are dealing does not want training in linguistics; this, for two very evident reasons: first, many of them have had linguistic training in their own languages before coming to this country; and, secondly, to afford a linguistic training would require more time and application than these foreigners are able to...
