Cram, technically known as the short cut, the straight tip, is well described by George Eliot in these words: In the schoolroom her quick mind had taken readily that strong starch of unexplained rules and disconnected facts, which saves ignorance from any painful sense of limpness. This starch might with more appositeness have been designated manufacturer s size, by which the dishonest trader is enabled to palm off on an unsuspecting public flimsy calico for good longcloth, or even linen. To make this clear, we must state the difference between the crammer or coach, and the teacher. The good teacher is wisely discursive; he aims at giving to his pupils a rich and varied association of ideas, and a large connotation to the terms in use. He follows the growth of notions in the minds of his...
